"Kris Kringle and His Crew."

The Cantata or Operetta given at the Amusement hall under the auspices of the Primary Assn. Christmas Eve, was one of the most pleasing and highly entertaining events of the season and the officers who had the affair in charge certainly deserve much credit for their untiring efforts in making it a success. However, it was far from being a financial success and failed to receive the liberal patronage that was justly due a performance of this character. Much labor and expense was incurred in making preparations for the cantata and the receipts from both the afternoon and evening performances did not meet the expenses. The children did excellent work in every particular and made a good appearance in the suits made for the occasion.

The cantata deserves a crowded house and a number of people have expressed their desire to have it repeated during the holidays.

NOTICE.

The Annual meeting of the Farmers' Protective and Commercial Association of the Bear River Valley, will be held at Tremont Saturday, Jan. 12, 1907, at 10 a. m., for the purpose of electing officers, hearing treasurer's report and other matters of general interest.

Sunday Services.

Bp. W. L. Grover presided at the afternoon services last Sunday. Singing "Praise to the Man." Prayer by Ludvig Larsen. Singing "What was Witnessed." Sacrament administered by Elders J. F. Dwyer and M. G. Hansen. Singing "How Great the Wisdom." A number of certificates were presented and accepted. The following were the speakers: Bp. W. L. Grover, Jos. Jensen, Wm. King and W. D. Lewis, who devoted their remarks to the life and labors of the Prophet Joseph Smith. Male quartette "One Hundred Years" by W. H. Crandall, J. J. Shumway, Leslie Grover and F. D. Welling. Singing "We Thank Thee O God for a Prophet." Benediction by J. J. Shumway.

King of All Cough Medicines.

Mr. E. G. Case, a mail carrier of Canton Center, Conn., who has been in the U. S. service for about sixteen years, says: "We have tried many cough medicines for croup, but Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is king of all and one to be relied upon every time. We also find it the best remedy for coughs and colds, giving certain results and leaving no bad after effects." For sale by Rite Bros. Drug Co.

WOULD GET WHAT SHE WANTED.

Flat Dweller Had Only to Wait for Results Desired.

After many skirmishes with an unaccommodating landlord, a New York flat holder finally obtained a promise that her apartment should have new wallpaper. She was given the address of the paperhanger and told to make her own selection. The present wallpaper was a Moorish design in the glistiest gilt, the reddest of reds, and the flatter, as she tripped along, pictured to herself a charming little nook in which old rose cartridge paper on the walls would harmonize delightfully with her new green rug and other belongings.

"I wish to see a pretty shade of old rose cartridge paper," she told the proprietor of the little establishment. "Sorry, mum," was the deprecating answer, "but we haven't any old rose. We only keep one shade of plain paper, and that's a dark plum color. But, sure, mum, it'll fade to old rose in two weeks."

No Opium in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

There is not the least danger in giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to small children as it contains no opium or other harmful drug. It has an established reputation of more than thirty years as the most successful medicine in use for colds, croup and whooping cough. It always cures and is pleasant to take. Children like it. Sold by Riter Bros. Drug Co.

From Australia.

Editor Garland Globe:

Since I wrote you in August, I have been transferred from the Queensland Conference to the Victoria Conference. I left Toowoomba, Queensland, Sept. 10, going overland by rail to Sydney, a distance of about 650 miles; had to change cars at the border line of Queensland and New South Wales. Here the R. R. did not have enough boxes on wheels to accommodate all the passengers and I was compelled to go into a smoking box, which was emptied and filled several times during the night (not with tobacco, but men with new supplies of pipes and tobacco.) I got about two hours of sleep that night. We stopped at New Castle one of the principal coal mining towns of Australia for one hour. From there we went to Sydney and on the 12th took boat for Melbourne. After a pleasant voyage of one and one half days and two nights, we landed safely at Melbourne a distance of 587 miles. The people of this city pride themselves on being very much like the Americans for bustle and thrift, but if I were to be their judge I would say that they are twenty years behind the Americans in nearly everything. Their street car system is very poor and their superb railway system will do for Australia. People here do not care for religion. There is a small branch of our church here and we also have a few friends. Four Elders are laboring here and are striving to spread the truth. There are over 500,000 people here. Last Tuesday was "Cap Day" and is observed as a general holiday. Some went to the horse races and others to picnic parties. Elder J. L. Lott and myself went with the saints and friends to Huddleberg Park and had a pleasant time playing ball and other games and eating the picnic the sisters furnished.

The health of the Elders and saints is good.

WHITE SPRUCE AS WINDBREAK.

In Many Ways It is the Best Tree for That Purpose.

As a windbreak, as a shelter for buildings or as a screen for unsightly objects, white spruce is particularly good. Its ability to stand the trials of bleak winds is well assured, and it is unquestionably the most hardy of the native spruces.

The white spruce is a quick growing tree, ranking next to the Norway spruce or the white pine in that respect. This tree usually grows 60 to 70 feet in height, but occasionally reaches 150 feet. The color of the foliage is a light, glaucous green, and when young it forms an elegant tree of a regular conical shape. Its habit is dense, the branches and foliage making an almost solid mass, which is of course so desired in a tree to be used for a windbreak. A little attention to the proper planting of a windbreak will repay one. It should not be a mere straight row of trees, as is so commonly seen.

A continuous belt of trees planted irregularly make a much more pleasing effect on the landscape and is even more efficient as a "break."—Garden Magazine.

Reprint, News-Herald: "There is at least one effectual, safe and reliable Cough Cure—Dr. Sheep's—that we regard as suitable, even for the youngest child. For years Dr. Sheep bitterly opposed the use of opiates or narcotics in medicine, offering $10 per drop to any one finding Opium, Chloroform, or any other poisonous or narcotic ingredient in Dr. Sheep's Cough Cure. And the challenge is as yet unanswered. Here is one manufacturing physician, who welcomed with satisfaction, the new Government Pure Food and Drug Law. The public can now protect itself at all times, by insisting on having Dr. Sheep's, when a cough remedy is needed." Sold by all dealers. J 19

WHERE YOU GET THE BEST

MARKET REPORT.

Special to the Garland Globe:—

Kansas City Stock Yards, Dec. 17, 1906.—The cattle run last week was smaller than it has been running recently, and contained a larger share of fed cattle from native territory, and fewer range cattle. The market grew stronger as the week progressed and the close was firm, and everything well closed up. Run today is 13,000 head, general market steady, cows, stockers and feeders strong. Stockers and feeders are selling at the best point of the season, sales of Colorado feeders since late last week ranging from $3.70 to $4.40; and stockers at $3.50 to $4.25, Panhandle and New Mexico stockers $3.00 to $4.10. Not many beef cattle from the range have been included lately, prices $3.80 to $4.25. Colorado cows made new records last week, bulk at $2.90 to $3.60, many odd lots at $3.75 and one shipment of 30 head of 944th spayed heifers from Montrose at $4.50. The latter was 50 cents higher than any colorados have sold at here this season previously. Panhandle and New Mexico cows ranged from $2.40 to $3.25, and are nearly back to the high time three weeks ago. Bulls sell at $2.25 to $3.00, calves $3.25 to $4.00. Sales of Christmas hives from Native territory have been the feature lately, at $6.50 to $7.50.

Sheep and lambs came in freely last week, and averaged much better quality than we have been getting. The market was stronger each day up to Thursday, when there was a break of 10 to 15 cents, which has not yet been fully recovered, although the tendency is firm today on the moderate run of 4500 head. Fed Western lambs sold at $7.35 to $7.60 today, medium lambs around $7.00, yearlings worth $5.75 to $6.60, wethers $5.25 to $5.65, ewes $4.75 to $5.35. Some San Luis Valley pea fed lambs sold Wednesday, before the break, at $7.65, and Mexican yearlings from same locality at $6.75, lambs from Lamar also at $7.65, and ewes $5.35.
